A unique setting

Fundació Joan Miró is located in the iconic Montjuïc Park, in a building designed by Josep Lluís Sert, with spectacular views of the city of Barcelona.

A combination of art, architecture, and landscape makes it the ideal setting for unforgettable events.

Sert's building

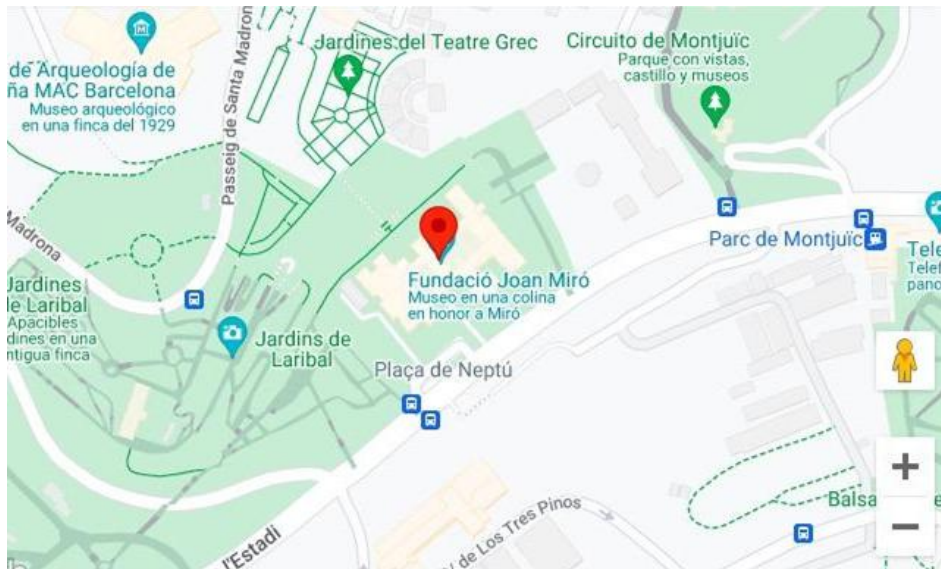

With a rationalist structure and Mediterranean features, Fundació Joan Miró building is not only a work of art, but also a cultural icon.

The work of Josep Lluís Sert, architect, urban planner, and close friend of Joan Miró, is one of the most outstanding examples of avant-garde architecture in Barcelona.

Private visits

"I understand that an artist is someone who, amidst the silence of others, uses their voice to say something and has the obligation to ensure that what is said is not useless, but something that serves people."

Joan Miró

Private visits

Fundació Joan Miró offers one of the most comprehensive collections on the life and work of Miró. With the help of Josep Lluís Sert, architect and friend, they created a museum where the artwork and architecture engage in a close dialogue.

We offer exclusive guided tours to enjoy the museum in an intimate and relaxed manner—an experience where every detail is perceived and every secret revealed.

Permanent Collection: With the museum open to the general public.

Josep Lluís Sert Building: Private visits. Outside of public opening hours.

Temporary Exhibitions: During the period when the museum is about to close until up to 2 hours afterwards.

Merchandising

"For me, an object is something that lives.
The cigarettes or matches in this box contain a secret of life far more intense than that of certain human beings."

Joan Miró

Merchandising

We offer the possibility of gifting our own merchandising items, featuring designs derived from the work of Joan Miró and related to temporary exhibitions, as well as a wide variety of local and international design items.

Our culinary offering

"What I really like is country cooking, rustic bread, and good olive oil."
